

10/31/24 Steatite acquires QPAR Antennas USA

We are delighted to announce that Steatite Systems Holdings Inc has acquired QPAR Antennas USA LLC, our long standing North American distributor for antennas.

Peter Keller, founder of QPAR Antennas USA, will continue to run the business as VP of Sales for North America. Peter will now benefit from additional resources on which he can draw from the wider Solid State Group, in particular the facility in Fountain Valley, California.

QPAR Antennas USA LLC remains a US entity and the account details remain unchanged for the time being. Should you receive any requests to change account details, please do not action these without validating with your existing QPAR contacts. We look forward to working with you on existing and future projects.

Regards

The Steatite Antennas team
